OFFICE OF DIVERSITY & INCLUSION WEBINAR

From Culture to Connection:
Culturally Responsive Approaches to Hispanic/Latinx/Latine Mental Health

This webinar will educate participants about best practice approaches to serving Hispanic/Latinx/Latine individuals in the mental health system. The presenter will provide level-setting on important topics and considerations when serving these communities. Additionally, the presenter will discuss tangible approaches to incorporate within mental health provider settings to ensure individuals are responding appropriately to the unique needs of Hispanic/Latinx/Latine individuals.

Beatriz Coronel is a bilingual leader in the Mental Health Field with more than 17 years of experience in Community Mental Health. She has dedicated her career to advancing culturally responsive, trauma-informed approaches that reduce risk factors, strengthen protective factors, and create pathways toward healing and growth for youth, families, and communities.

Beatriz is a Suicide Prevention Trainer, a member of the New York State Office of Mental Health Suicide Prevention Task Force, and a trainer for Tending the Roots, a trauma-responsive and resiliency-informed initiative coordinated through the Trauma-Informed Network Resource Center.

Her work is grounded in the belief that healing happens within the context of families, communities, cultures, and systems. She is especially passionate about recognizing culture, identity, lived experience, and community connection as sources of strength and essential components of healing and suicide prevention. Throughout her career, she has integrated Creative Expressive Arts Therapy, community engagement, health and wellness, academic enrichment, and mental health supports to create opportunities for connection, expression, and healing.

She holds a Master's Degree in Psychology and is currently pursuing a Master's Degree of Social Work, Class of 2027, continuing her commitment to strengthening the systems and communities that help young people and their families heal, grow, and thrive.
